In Gratitude: An auction of this scale cannot take place without the efforts of individuals outside of the Heritage organization. First and foremost, Louise McMillen of the Crow Art Partnership worked tirelessly with our team, graciously offering constant access to and information about the Collection, working with the Heritage team daily. Gina Norris, also in the Crow organization, was always available to answer questions and guide the direction of our efforts. Sam Fore, curator of the Crow Art Partnership Collection, offered research and operational support. Martha Martin also was available to us and offered insight into the Collection history. Special thanks must be extended to Douglass Brown and Stuart Lee, who worked diligently to catalogue and verify lots to be included in the Signature auction.
